

Government of Nunavut Employment Opportunity

Inuktitut Reviewer / Editor Department of Culture, Language, Elders and Youth Igloolik, Nunavut

An exciting opportunity awaits those interested in working for the Government of Nunavut. This position provides professional Inuktitut reviewing and editing for all translations to the Government of Nunavut and agencies that go through the translation bureau. The incumbent will be involved in fulfilling the Government of Nunavut's legal obligations under the Official Languages Act to ensure that all government legislation, policies, public communications and other documents are available in all of Nunavut's official language.

The successful candidate will have completed grade 12 and hold an Interpreter/Translator Certificate. Alternatively we would also consider an applicant who has completed Grade 12 or equivalent with a minimum of 3 years experience in the field of interpretation and translation. You must possess excellent written and spoken Inuktitut and English, and be highly knowledgeable on the use of Inuit Cultural Institute's standardized orthography for Inuktitut. The incumbent must have sound knowledge of a variety of issues and specialized terminology in various fields including but not limited to: law, medicine, finance, information technology, environment and science. You must also be able to type, be computer literate, and have knowledge of government programs and services.

Equivalencies that consist of a combination of education, knowledge, skills and abilities equal in worth to the formal education and experience requirements will be considered.

If there is no successful Nunavut Land Claims Beneficiary, position will be offered as a 3 year term.

This position is included in the Nunavut Employees' Union. Salary starts at $77,532.00 per annum, plus a Northern Allowance of $22,579.00
