

- d. There shall be no more than six (6) people seated at or congregating near a table.
- e. Food service establishments may establish their own hours for on-premises, take-out and delivery services.
- f. There shall be no dancing or live music, including karaoke.
- g. All staff must wear masks.

Part 2: Transitional and Enforcement

- 6. For certainty, in the event of a conflict between a territory-wide order and any order affecting a specific community or group of communities, the community-specific order prevails to the extent of the conflict.
- 7. Environmental Health Officers appointed pursuant to the Public Health Act may enter any food service establishment during regular business hours for the purposes of inspecting, monitoring, and advising with respect to compliance with this Order.
- 8. Pursuant to paragraph 41(1)(f) of the Public Health Act, Environmental Health Officers appointed pursuant to the Public Health Act, members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, sheriffs appointed pursuant to the Judicature Act, and municipal by-law enforcement officers are authorized to implement this order, including entering any premises other than a dwelling without a warrant.
- 9. Failure to comply with this Order may be considered a breach of this Order issued under the Act and may result in penalties under the Act, which may include:
 - a. A $575 fine for individuals; and
 - b. A $2875 fine for corporations.
- 10. Making a false statement or declaration to any person listed in paragraph 10 shall constitute a breach of this Order.

Dated at Iqaluit, Nunavut on December 21, 2021

Dr. Michael Patterson, Chief Public Health Officer

NUNAVUT