INTRODUCTION

“CL<sup>C</sup>C/Tamapta: Building our future together” is the mandate of the Government of Nunavut. It consists of a vision, guiding principles, priorities, and an action plan for the term of this government. It expresses a vision for the year 2030 and seeks to address the needs of Nunavummiut.

Drawing guidance and direction from CL<sup>C</sup>C/Tamapta, the 2013-2016 Business Plan of the Government of Nunavut is the formal statement of the Government’s goals for the next three years. It includes the plans of ten departments and five territorial corporations. The Business Plan is a strategic and operational plan tied to the Main Estimates, which provides details of expenditures projected to be incurred.

The Business Plan is introduced by the CL<sup>C</sup>C/Tamapta: Building our future together. This is followed by an Environmental Scan, an Inuit Employment Plan, and Core Business sections, which detail program areas and tactical/operational priorities for the next three years.

The Environmental Scan provides the context, or setting, for the operations of each department and territorial corporation. Their clients, challenges (constraints and pressures) and opportunities are described.

The Inuit Employment Plan provides information on government-wide Inuit employment goals and initiatives for the 2013-14 fiscal year. It also includes an aggregation of initiatives of individual departments.

The Core Business section describes, for all departments and crown corporations, their business lines and the corresponding budgets contained in the Government of Nunavut’s 2013-2014 Main Estimates. For each line of business, a status report is provided on priorities identified for the 2012-2013 fiscal year. New priorities for each program are outlined for 2013-2016.

The Appendix for each department provides a financial summary of its operations. This information ties the Business Plan to the Main Estimates. Some departments and crown corporations have further appendices with information relevant to their operations.

Electronic copies will be available on the Government of Nunavut’s website at www.gov.nu.ca.

Building our future together

Government of Nunavut Priorities

OUR VISION

Our vision comes from who we are, what we have accomplished, and where we are heading. The next 20 years will come and go very quickly. Guided by Inuit values and culture, by the year 2030:

Nunavummiut will continue to have a highly valued quality of life and a much better standard of living for those most in need.

Individuals and families will all be active, healthy and happy.

Communities will be self-reliant, based on Inuit societal values, with reduced dependence on government.

Nunavut will be recognized for our unique culture, our ability to help one another, and for our useful contributions to Canadian and global issues.

TOGETHER WE CAN REACH OUR VISION

It will take all of us working together, for the next two decades, to reach our vision. The 2030 vision for Nunavut acknowledges and builds on our history as a Territory and the good work that has already been done. But there is still much more to do and government cannot act alone.

The actions we take today will have a big impact on tomorrow. With this in mind, the mandate from 2009 – 2013 addresses our most important priorities for people and for our communities. It ensures that for generations to come Nunavut is a wonderful place to live with a wide range of opportunities and a variety of economies.

Our past, the present, and our future:

- Ø In the first ten years (1999 – 2009) Nunavut came into formal existence and is now well established as a Territory. In the beginning, the focus was on developing a system for governance, infrastructure, basic programs and services and making a good start on cultivating our ability to govern ourselves.
- Ø In this mandate (2009 – 2013) we will keep going - maintain the momentum - by working together with Nunavummiut. Our focus will be on communities and people working with government to build our future. We will review where we are, and build on our successes while improving the things that are not working well.
- Ø Over the next ten years (between now and 2020) we will continue to actively pursue the goals of the first two Assemblies, without losing sight of our long-term priorities.
- Ø Through steady progress (between now and 2030) Nunavut will be better able to realize and live up to its potential and will allow us to reach our vision.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Inuit have always lived in a harsh climate. Survival is only achieved by working together and passing on life skills and principles for living. Over the past ten years, our government has been guided by Inuit societal values, including those outlined in Pinasuaqtavut. We will continue to be guided by these principles from now into the future:

Inuuqatigiitsiarniq:	respecting others, relationships and caring for people.
Tunnganarniq:	fostering good spirit by being open, welcoming and inclusive.
Pijitsirniq:	serving and providing for family and/or community.
Aajiiqatigiinni:	decision making through discussion and consensus.
Pilimmaksarniq/Pijariuqsarniq:	development of skills through observation, mentoring, practice, and effort.
Piliriqatigiinni/Ikajuqtigiinni:	working together for a common cause.
Qanuqtuurniq:	being innovative and resourceful.
Avatittinnik Kamatsiarniq:	respect and care for the land, animals and the environment.

WE SHOULD ALL HAVE WHAT WE NEED

All Nunavummiut deserve to have their basic needs met. This means working together with families and communities to ensure:

- Ø Affordable, healthy food, safe water, and a home
- Ø Safety
- Ø A sense of belonging and purpose
- Ø Family support and friendship
- Ø Education and opportunities to learn
- Ø Communication in our preferred language
- Ø Personal responsibility
- Ø Pride in our culture and in who we are
- Ø Stewardship of our environment and wildlife
- Ø Access to the land for personal growth
- Ø Opportunities for fun, recreation and cultural activities

TAMAPTA: BUILDING OUR FUTURE TOGETHER

We can improve the quality of life for all Nunavummiut. Our government is making a solid commitment to undertake and support the following priorities in the years 2009 to 2013:

Ø Improve education and training outcomes

Nunavut should have a wider range of options for education, adult learning and training. We need to recognize all types of accomplishments to empower our youth to take on leadership roles that reflect their personal aspirations and culture. Our goal is to have more graduates and to reduce the gap between unemployed people and job opportunities. Families will be encouraged to work with schools to find more ways to support students and help them continue learning.

Ø Reduce poverty

Too many Nunavummiut live in poverty and suffer its effects. We believe that everyone should have their basic needs met and we are committed to doing this. Developing a standard for Nunavut's quality of life will be a start to ensuring that all Nunavummiut will have what they need.

Ø Connect our community

Elders provide cultural continuity, help develop leadership, and pass on our traditional skills and knowledge. All generations, from youth to elders, will be encouraged and supported in expanding their individual roles in governance and leadership. We will increase opportunities and programs to support social, sports, recreational and traditional activities in communities and on the land.

Ø Increase housing options

Everyone deserves to have a home. As our population continues to grow, we will build more housing and provide better diversification in the type of housing available. In doing this, we will provide opportunities for Nunavummiut to learn new skills and be gainfully employed while addressing one of our most important needs.

Ø Increase support for culture and the arts

Nunavut is recognized for its unique language, culture, heritage and rich artistic presence. By taking active ownership of our cultural identity, we will provide more opportunities for all aspects of the arts to flourish. We will work together with communities, artists, and businesses to build a more cohesive culture and arts sector. It will include traditional and contemporary visual arts, language, performing arts, and all other forms of artistic expression.

Ø Help those at risk in our communities

There are too many people experiencing personal pain and hardships without enough assurance that they will be helped. We will establish an office for advocacy and action on behalf of challenged and disadvantaged individuals and groups. Government support will be inclusive and integrated, offering help for all those experiencing serious difficulties but targeting help to those at most significant risk or disadvantage.

Ø Support community-based, sustainable economies

Inuit have historically worked together as families and communities to provide for themselves while caring for our land and natural resources. We should all have opportunities to take care of our family needs in a way that is consistent with our interests and abilities, our cultural values and current realities. By working in partnership with government, communities will become more economically active, productive and self-reliant and Nunavummiut will continue to be stewards of our environment.

Ø Address social concerns at their roots

We have spent a long time talking about issues and finding ways to resolve them. It is essential to be more holistic in our approaches and to understand what is causing the problems in the first place. Early prevention and intervention will help to reduce alcohol and drug abuse, suicide and crime, especially if the solutions are driven by community members. Many people are already actively involved in helping their communities as volunteers. Enhancing our cultural pride and asserting our identity will further strengthen our self-sufficiency and ability to help each other as families and communities.

Ø Improve health through prevention

Health and wellbeing of all Nunavummiut is critical to improving northern quality of life. We all have a role to play in being active, healthy and happy. Our focus will be on early prevention of health problems and improving the overall standard of living in Nunavut. Emphasis will be placed on those who are the least able to look after themselves.

Ø Enhance our recognition in Canada and the world

Nunavut is a wonderful and welcoming place to live, with a vibrant mix of many cultures. Climate change and its impact on the Northwest Passage have increased awareness of the north and the ways of Inuit. The eyes of the world are on our Territory.

We must now show the determination and ability to present our views and ideas on matters of national and global importance. We will assert our presence, establishing our credibility and voice outside of Nunavut.

Ø Strengthen the public service

Through the Qanukkanniq Report Card, Nunavummiut provided their input on the areas where their government was performing well and where the public service required improvement. All of the actions under Tamapta will be either delivered by or coordinated with the Government of Nunavut's public service. In order to reach our Vision, the public service must have the resources and tools necessary to effectively carry out their work, including improved financial, human resources, business planning, and informatics systems.

DECLARATION OF CONFIDENCE

We believe in Nunavut.

We have hope for its vibrant future,
built by our people pursuing their dreams.

ENVIRONMENTAL SCAN

In working toward its Vision, the Government of Nunavut must take into account a wide range of issues that address the unique opportunities and challenges of the territory and its people. These circumstances include Nunavut's unique system of governance and the many external forces affecting our potential for success as we advance our priorities. The following have an important bearing on the approaches the Government will adopt in pursuing its work.

The environmental factors having the most direct impacts on our work include:

- Demographics
- Geography
- The Economy
- Social and Cultural Factors
- Energy and the Environment
- Infrastructure
- Resource & Capacity Challenges
- Governance

This section of the Business Plan will explore the impact that all of these factors have on the approach the Government of Nunavut takes to serving Nunavummiut.

Demographics

Nunavut has Canada's youngest and one of the fastest growing populations. On average, the population has been growing by 1.7 percent annually since 2000. In total, the population has grown by 22.6 percent over the past 12 years. By comparison, Canada has grown an average of 1.1% annually or by a total of 14.1% over the same period.

As of 2012, the median age of the Nunavut population was 24.7 years, compared to 40.0 years in Canada. The youthfulness of Nunavut is apparent, as 31.7% of the population is below the age of 15, compared to 16.2 % in Canada. Despite the youthfulness, the population is aging, as the number of seniors has increased by 56.2% since 2000. Seniors, however, presently make up a small percentage of the population, where 3.3% are 65 years of age and older, as compared to 14.9% in Canada.

Nunavut and Canada Population by age groups
Estimates as of July 1, 2012

Age Groups	Nunavut	Canada	Nunavut %	Canada %
Less than 15 years	10,693	5,663,163	31.7	16.2
15 to 64 years	21,882	24,030,506	64.9	68.9
65 years and over	1,122	5,186,822	3.3	14.9

The population pyramid shows the difference in the age structure of Nunavut and Canada. The large percentage of younger Nunavut residents and the general pyramidal shape of the age structure reflect a youthful population. In Canada, the large ‘bulge’ in the older age groups reflects the aging baby boomers and a significantly older population in general.

The Nunavut population continues to place new demands on the health and education systems and on the wage economy. Changing demographics pose challenges, but also offer opportunities, for all departments and agencies within the Government of Nunavut. In order to effectively plan for the future growth of programs, it is essential that demographics, including the age distribution of the population, be consistently monitored and incorporated into strategic and operational plans.

Geography

Nunavut's many beautiful landscapes, natural resources and ecological zones provide many opportunities. However, the sheer size of the territory in relation to its population causes considerable challenges as well. Nunavut covers 1.994 million square kilometres of land mass, with a population estimated at 33,322 (as of July 1, 2011). This results in a population density of only 0.017 people per square kilometre. For comparison, Canada has a population density of 3.4 people per square kilometre (based on 9.985 km<sup>2</sup>, with a population of 34,108,752).

This widely dispersed population presents a significant challenge, given the steep cost of transportation. In order to serve the public, there is a need for transportation from or to those communities on a regular basis. These transportation costs vary widely, but regardless of the community, the transportation costs for government services are considerable.

The headquarters functions for many government departments are located in the capital city of Iqaluit, but their operations must remain focused on the needs of all Nunavummiut. The 25 communities served by the Government of Nunavut, are widely dispersed, each with its own municipal government and unique circumstances. It is crucial that government come to understand the needs of these communities, in order to work effectively with Nunavummiut to ensure that everyone's needs are addressed.

Economy

Nunavut's mixed economy is characterized by traditional land use activities, a relatively large public sector, and a rapidly expanding mining industry. Numerous economic sectors hold great potential, but are currently underdeveloped, such as tourism, fisheries, arts & crafts and film.

Key challenges in the development of Nunavut's economy include the development of transportation infrastructure, the development of a robust community-based entrepreneurial sector, the orderly development of mineral and petroleum resources, the cost of reaching suppliers and markets, and the need to build capacity in the workforce. Continuing economic problems include the high cost of doing business, low employment rate, and economic leakages and distortions. Nunavummiut need to be in a position to participate in all aspects of economic growth in the territory. The primary objective of government in this area is to help transform Nunavut's enormous potential into economic benefits for Nunavummiut.

Community Economic Development and Entrepreneurship

The private sector, especially small Nunavut-based businesses, still represents only a small portion of the economy. Many business opportunities require management skills and capital that small business owners do not currently possess. There is a need to support the young and growing population of Nunavut through education, training and skills development in business. Local human resource capacity issues, which limit economic growth in the territory, must be addressed through education and skills development, in order to promote and support local entrepreneurship.

Community-based economic development provides for the identification of community strengths and weaknesses, particular growth opportunities, and community-specific needs. Thus, economic development becomes a tool for strengthening community, for fostering social inclusion, and for reducing dependency on government assistance.

Mineral and Petroleum Exploration and Development

Nunavut is recognized as one of Canada's most attractive jurisdictions for mineral and petroleum exploration and investment. The development of our mineral and petroleum resources has the potential to generate significant economic benefits for Nunavut. In fact, over the past few years, Nunavummiut have benefited significantly from mine development, exploration and gold production.

In 2012, commodity prices were generally fluctuating below their post-recession peak attained in 2011. We anticipate the level of mineral exploration spending to recede fractionally in 2013, due to financial factors.

The Meadowbank gold mine, which started production in 2010, remains the only producing mine in Nunavut. A strong increase in output-value is anticipated, as both production and the price of gold have continued to rise in 2012. Its operator, Agnico-Eagle Mines, also owns the Meliadine gold project near Rankin Inlet. In the Qikiqtaaluk region, construction on the Baffinland Iron Mines' Mary River project could begin as early as 2013.

Nunavut has significant petroleum potential. Current estimates place its conventional undiscovered resources at 25 percent of Canada's conventional crude oil resources and 34 percent of Canada's conventional natural gas resources. Significant future exploration activity will be required for a more accurate picture of Nunavut's oil and gas potential, as much of the current knowledge is very dated.

Control of land and resource management responsibilities is essential to long-term economic development and the territory's self-sufficiency. Currently, the federal government controls the revenue generated from developed Crown lands in Nunavut. This is not the case in the provinces or the Yukon.

Devolution of authority for land management from the federal government to the territorial government is needed if Nunavummiut are to be self-reliant and the beneficiaries of future economic growth. Devolution will provide Nunavut with control and the opportunity to collect mineral and petroleum royalties.

Tourism, Trade and Cultural Industries

Nunavut's distinctive attractions have tremendous potential to support the development of tourism. The tourism sector generates external capital, promotes Inuit culture and the protection of the territory's natural resources. It plays a key role in enhancing Nunavut's reputation in Canada and abroad. Tourism has regained most of the ground it had lost during the global recession of 2009. Key industry stakeholders are currently involved in the process of drafting a tourism strategy, which once formally approved will guide the long-term development of this economic sector.

The trade of locally produced products faces many challenges in Nunavut. On the supply side, Nunavut businesses and development corporations need to become export-ready, to develop value-added components, and build the capacity to enter extra-territorial markets. On the demand side, viable niche markets for Nunavut products need to be developed or expanded through branding, marketing and establishment of distribution channels. Nunavut produces unique products in film, arts and crafts, and tourism, and each sector provides important economic opportunities for the territory.

Inuit cultural activities, and above all, Inuit stories, form the basis for viable economic activity and help create sustainable livelihoods for families through the arts, crafts and cultural industries. From soapstone carvings to the production of feature films, Inuit knowledge is applied in many artistic media today, for which there is a ready market. Making art contributes to the development of pride in culture, self-esteem and even healing. It promotes learning and entrepreneurship. The products of our cultural industries are known worldwide, and they contribute to the success of other economic sectors, such as tourism. However, accessibility of markets needs to be fostered and marketing opportunities need to be generated and supported.

Labour Market

The Nunavut Bureau of Statistics monitors and reports monthly on labour force statistics. The challenge of improving employment opportunities, and the capacity of Nunavummiut to gain that employment, is one that is shared across all governments and other institutions. The government must continue to strive to create private sector employment, as it did rather successfully over the past few years.

On average for July to September 2012, the number of employed people in Nunavut was estimated at 12,200, up by 500 from the 3-month average ending September 2011. Also on average for July to September 2012, the employment rate was 57.9% while the unemployment rate was estimated at 14.8%, down from 17.2% in 2011.

Over the past 12 months, employment for both Inuit and non-Inuit increased. The employment rate for Inuit jumped from 46.1% to 48.4%. For non-Inuit, this rate gained one percentage point and currently stands at 91.2%.

In the three-year period leading to January 2012, nearly 2,000 jobs were created in Nunavut, mainly in the private sector. In terms of percentage, employment grew at a rate of over 6% annually since 2009. In 2012, employment levels are setting records. The employment rates are expected to remain at healthy levels in 2013, as major mining projects are expected to commence.

Income Support

Income Support programs provide financial resources in combination with other government programs and services to help people achieve independence and self-reliance. The purpose of the programs is to address cost of living issues, compensate for little or no-income, maintain family income where an income earner becomes unemployed, or retires, and provides support to those who, because of a disability or illness, are unable to earn an income.

The programs are designed to help individuals and families meet their financial needs: Social Assistance, Daycare Subsidy, Senior Citizen Supplementary Benefit, Senior Fuel Subsidy, Building Careers, Transition to Work, and the Nunavut Child Benefit/Territorial Worker Supplement.

Between 2004-05 and 2009-2010, Income Support expenditures increased from $23.94 million to $28.3 million, largely due to an increased caseload. In 2010, approximately 6,600 different heads of household (13,716 recipients), or 41% of family units continued to seek and rely on income support during the year (Department of Education data).

It must be understood that self-reliance is a shared responsibility between the individual, the community and the government. As Nunavut's large cohort of young people become adults, efforts must continue to improve the link between income support to programs and services that provide Nunavummiut with the skills to participate fully in their community and the economy.

Poverty Reduction

Poverty in Nunavut has many dimensions. It is linked to food insecurity, poor health, low rates of school achievement, low income and high levels of family stress.

From an historical perspective, the social and cultural changes that have taken place over the past 50 years, have challenged self-reliance and created problems that we now see expressed as poverty. As Inuit knowledge and culture was increasingly detached from how Inuit secured their standard of living, gaps were created in the systems that supported the Inuit way of life.

Closing these gaps is the essential work of poverty reduction. This work requires collaboration and a sustained commitment by governments, Inuit organizations, communities, non-government organizations and businesses across many sectors. Poverty will require ongoing public engagement in the development and implementation of solutions.

Social and Cultural Factors

Culture and Heritage

Nunavut's unique culture and history forms a defining element in the creation of the territory. The material record of the human history of Nunavut and the accomplishments of past generations takes many forms, including thousands of archaeological sites and artifacts, cultural landscapes, and historic buildings. It also includes vast collections of written documents, photographs, film, oral histories, video and sound recordings that document people, places, events, language and traditions.

Nunavut's heritage assets are a largely untapped source of invaluable knowledge that is directly relevant to critical issues facing the Government of Nunavut in the areas of elders, youth, language, and Inuit Qaujimagatuqangit.

Nunavummiut express a desire to have a government that reflects their values, traditional knowledge, and approach to life. The Government of Nunavut has the opportunity to create a new model for governance in Canada that integrates Inuit Societal Values, progressing to reach a representative level of Inuit employment, and integration and promotion of the Inuit Language.

While the Government of Nunavut does follow the guiding principles of Inuit Societal Values outlined in Tamapta/CL<sup>CC</sup>: Building our future together, much work remains to be done to reflect those values in all of the government's policies, programs, and workplaces.

Language

A passionate commitment to the Inuit Language and culture motivated a generation of Inuit leaders to launch the decades-long struggle to establish Nunavut. The creation of the Territory with its Inuit majority (84% according to 2006 census data) provides a unique opportunity to safeguard one of Canada's strongest Aboriginal languages, and the centuries of values, history and knowledge that it embodies, while respecting and protecting the rights of those using English or French.

In 2006, about 70% of the territorial population reported the Inuit Language as their mother tongue, 54% identified it as the main language used in the home, and 77% reported being able to speak it. About 26% of the population reported English as their mother tongue, 44% identified it as the main or only language used in the home, and 88% reported being able to speak it. About 1.4% of the population reported French as their mother tongue, 0.7% used it as the main language in the home, and 4% reported being able to speak it.

Nunavut's new Official Languages Act was approved by the Legislative Assembly on June 4, 2008, and received federal parliamentary concurrence on June 11, 2009. The Act recognizes the Inuit Language, English and French as Nunavut's three Official Languages. It creates obligations for the Legislative Assembly, the Courts, departments of the Government of Nunavut and public agencies to actively offer their communications and services to the public in the official languages, in a culturally appropriate and effective manner, at their head or central service offices. It should be noted that the Inuit language regionally means Inuinnaqtun in the western part of the Kitikmeot, and Inuktitut everywhere else in Nunavut.

The Inuit Language Protection Act was proclaimed in 2008, and many of its provisions are now in force. The Act responds more specifically to the challenges confronting the Inuit Language and its speakers by protecting and promoting its quality and prevalence throughout Nunavut society. The Act guarantees the right to education in the Inuit Language, protects unilingual and bilingual territorial public servants who prefer to work in the Inuit Language, and defines specific obligations for government, municipalities, and businesses for the provision of their day-to-day services generally available to the public in the Inuit language.

Different individuals and organizations have responsibilities to promote, implement and enforce the legislation. The Minister of Languages plays a central role in coordinating, managing and monitoring the work of departments and public agencies in implementing their language obligations; preparing and maintaining a government-wide and multi-sector comprehensive implementation plan; and developing policies and programs intended to promote the advancement of the Inuit language. The Minister also oversees the equality of all official languages, and reports annually to the Legislative Assembly on progress made in implementing the legislation. The Minister is supported by the Department of Culture and Heritage in fulfilling this mandate.

The Inuit Uqausinginnik Taiguusiliuqtiit was established under the Inuit Language Protection Act as a public agency, now operating at arm's length from the government. The Inuit language authority is mandated to develop, standardize, and promote terminology; establish oral and writing competency levels; review or administer language assessments for the purpose of certification; supervise or undertake language research projects; administer an award program recognizing outstanding language achievements; provide assistance to businesses and other organizations regarding the proper use of terminology and spelling on signs or other documents; and generally collaborate with any organizations sharing similar objectives to develop, use and standardize the Inuit language within Nunavut and abroad.

Since 1999, Nunavut has had a Languages Commissioner. As a language ombudsman and watchdog, this office provides a place for Nunavummiut to bring forward their concerns about language practices of government and non-government organizations. With added non-investigative and investigative powers, the Languages Commissioner can make recommendations for changes, and for difficult cases, file a court application for binding enforcement.

The responsibility in implementing the legislation is also shared by all departments of the Government of Nunavut and public agencies. Cabinet has further oversight to ensure effective planning, maximize the use of resources toward implementation, and focus on delivering concrete results to Nunavummiut. Incidentally, individuals, families, communities and non-government organizations are also all partners in protecting and promoting our language, culture and identity.

Inuit Societal Values

Elders provide cultural continuity, help develop leadership, and pass on our traditional skills and knowledge. It is a Tamapta priority for this Government to use approaches that reflect Inuit Societal Values to build a strong future for Nunavummiut.

Programming that collaborates with Elders will focus on Inuit social knowledge & values, Inuit ways of counseling, cultural teaching for healthy living, traditional skills & knowledge workshops on land based healing and wellness & counseling.

Community based Inuit Societal Values Projects are initiatives to promote Inuit Qaujimajatuqangit and to strengthen the role of Elders in addressing the social problems and issues in Nunavut. The intent is to provide Inuit with the opportunity to have a say in maintaining order and peace according to their culture and tradition, as well as identifying gaps in and finding possible solutions to community and social wellness issues.

Youth

Sport and recreational opportunities are vital to developing and sustaining healthy, active communities. Nunavummiut of all ages benefit from introductory, recreational, and competitive programs offered at both the community and intercommunity levels. In many cases access to intercommunity programs and opportunities is determined by flight costs and logistics, since participants must travel by air between communities.

Traditional activities are important to youth as they develop, and opportunities to participate in these activities must be fostered and supported by communities and government.

Nunavummiut pursuing competitive and high performance sport represent the territory at major multi-sport games such as the Arctic Winter Games, Canada Games, and North American Indigenous Games.

While the Government of Nunavut promotes positive role models and encourages youth to participate in or volunteer for community events, there is always a need for youth to get involved in building their own futures. These initiatives are successful only with effective partnerships with communities, families, and elders.

Even with efforts to promote healthy and active youth, challenges persist, which can have negative impacts on the self-esteem and productivity of our youth. The recently released suicide prevention strategy draws attention to the most alarming of these challenges, and the forthcoming implementation plan will address some of the most significant challenges facing youth.

Elders

The majority of elderly people in Nunavut are unilingual Inuit Language speakers who face challenges in accessing programs and services provided by governments and other organizations. This further highlights the urgency to focus on using the Inuit Language in the workplace and ensuring that there are government positions that can provide services and programs in the language of choice.

Elders who have lived on the land are a repository of oral history and tradition, and may be able to give youth critical adaptation tools, helping them connect with their culture, heritage, and the land. Dialogue between youth and elders also provides opportunities for elders to understand the modern influences on the lifestyle and unique challenges of our youth.

In addition to documenting the past, elders’ input is needed to shape the future of government in order to reflect Inuit Societal Values in its daily operations.

Educational Attainment

As the global and Canadian economy recovers, economic activity in Nunavut will also recover, particularly in the mining sector. However, Inuit Nunavummiut may not benefit from the recovery to the same degree as non-Aboriginal Canadians, both in Nunavut and in the rest of Canada. In large part, this is due to differences in educational opportunities and attainment.

For all educational attainment indicators, except trades and college, Inuit Canadians aged 24-64 are significantly behind non-Aboriginal Canadians. Overall, just 31% of Inuit Nunavummiut reported that they have some post-secondary education compared to 61% of non-Aboriginal Canadians. The difference is most acute for those without high school graduation and university. The differences in educational indicators are reflected in the 2006 employment and unemployment rates and average earnings. Inuit Canadians do not participate in and benefit from the economy to the same degree as non-aboriginal Canadians.

Educational Attainment of Inuit and Non-Aboriginal People aged 25 to 64

	Inuit Nunavummiut	Non-Inuit Nunavummiut	Non-Aboriginal Canadians
Without high school graduation	60%	7%	15%
High school graduation or equivalent	9%	14%	24%

Educational Needs

Geography plays an important role in the design, delivery, and evaluation of educational programming in Nunavut. Improved information technology infrastructure is essential to support distance learning and program delivery in all education and training areas throughout the territory.

Our successes have been driven in large part by funding targeted at specific employer needs. As a result, Nunavut has a series of impressive achievements in career training and professional education. However, we are challenged by the need to make similar advances in building general adult learning capacity both for Nunavummiut preparing for college and for Nunavummiut who need general university preparation.

The most critical challenge in developing a skilled Nunavummiut workforce able to compete in a modern economy is the high school diploma or equivalent. 60% of Inuit Nunavummiut aged 25-64 lack high school graduation compared to only 15% of non-Aboriginal Canadians. Education and Nunavut Arctic College are working together to move forward with a High School Graduation Diploma for Mature Students.

Early Childhood Education

Licensed childcare facilities and early childhood programs are operated by non-governmental societies or groups. The Government of Nunavut assists organizations through funding and support to help facilitate services. Due to cost of program delivery, some licensed facilities have had to raise parental fees, increasing the financial burden on families whose children participate in licensed early childhood development programs, which may hinder participation in training or entry into the work force. The availability of appropriate early childhood facilities and programs is limited in many communities, and there is a need to ensure that staff working in these facilities and programs are properly trained and retained. To support the development of Inuit language and culture, the Education Act mandates that District Education Authorities (which began July 1st 2011) must provide early childhood programming, often in partnership with existing early childhood programs.

Kindergarten to Grade 12 (K-12) Schools

High school education attainment within Nunavut has shown significant improvement over the past decade, with 228 students graduating in 2011, compared to 178 in 2005, and only 128 in 1999 (Department of Education data). Youth are becoming more aware of the positive impacts an education can have on all aspects of their future. It must be noted that graduation rates from grade 12, college, and university remain significantly below national averages. While progress is being made to reduce the dropout rate in Nunavut, overall 38% of adults have not graduated from high school.

The K-12 school system will face numerous challenges during the next few years such as the need to improve student attendance, implementing bilingual education, and complying with new legislation such as the Education Act, Inuit Language Protection Act and Official Languages Act. Approximately 60 additional teachers were hired in 2011 to support bilingual education and to help ensure a wide range of program offerings. Increasing the number of Inuit educators, producing bilingual curriculum, teaching and learning materials for all grades, and addressing impediments that affect the hiring of new teachers, such as the availability and affordability of housing, are all important in strengthening K-12 education in Nunavut.

Adult Education

Post-secondary education has a direct impact on people's ability to compete in the labour market, on the types of jobs they obtain, and the remuneration they receive. As the number of grade 12 graduates' increases, the post-secondary cohort in Nunavut is expected to grow in parallel. This will have a significant impact on the demand for programs and services. This growth will result in increased pressures in all of the following program areas: post-secondary education, student financial assistance, early childhood services, literacy, trades training, apprenticeships, and adult basic education.

A priority effort is also needed to focus strategically on raising literacy skills (English and Inuit language) and basic education levels. Short-term funding from the federal government fiscal stimulus package initiated in 2009 supports an increase in funding availability and flexibility, but does not provide a long-term solution. The current Adult Basic Education and General Education Development programs are not meeting the needs of all clients. A made-in-Nunavut Mature High School Graduation program, as well as the utilization of Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR) in skills development and recognition may improve adult education outcomes. Training and educational opportunities for unilingual Inuit adults is also important. Without these efforts, there will be very few candidates with the basic skills needed to participate in Nunavut's future economic opportunities.

For post-secondary education, 4% of Inuit Nunavummiut have some university education, compared to 28% of non-Aboriginal Canadians. Successful university partnerships have already been delivered in Nunavut (e.g. teacher and nurse education), but general university capacity also needs to be built. There is currently no university in the north. There may be significant opportunities to provide accessible university education in the North, for the North and by the North - education that is uniquely committed to the sustainability of the North and the needs and cultures of the people who live here.

Health Status of Nunavummiut

The delivery of health care services faces many unique challenges and needs when it comes to providing for the health and well-being of Nunavummiut. The health status of Nunavummiut is significantly below the national average. Overall life expectancy trails the Canadian average by 10 years, while infant mortality rates are almost four times higher in Nunavut. Tuberculosis continues to be a critical public health issue for the government. Social problems in Nunavut are also of major concern.

Incidents of child abuse, family violence, and suicide are stark reminders that these social problems will only lead to an increased impact on the already overburdened health and social services system.

The Government of Nunavut recognizes that for health indicators to improve, a focus on healthy living and injury prevention is required. Active living, eating nutritious foods and abstinence from drugs, tobacco and alcohol are the foundations of prevention.

The Government of Nunavut's department of Health and Social Services is currently engaged in health promotion initiatives such as programs to reduce tobacco use and promote food security and nutrition.

Healthy living encourages healthier pregnancies, lower rates of chronic disease, and improved mental wellness. Healthy living is also closely related to providing Nunavummiut with structures that support healthy living. This includes having the right to safe drinking water, appropriate infrastructure, such as recreation centres, good education, economic development, clean living environments, community and family ties, and above all, quality of life.

Sustainability of the Health System

Strengthening the overall financial and administrative management of Nunavut's health care system is crucial to the sustainability of service delivery in the territory. Nunavut's health care system and social services delivery system are facing challenges. The Government of Nunavut continues to invest additional resources into public health, recognizing that by making investments in health promotion and preventative care now, the high cost of primary health care in the future can be offset.

In order to help contain cost increases, proactive steps are being taken to strengthen financial and human resource management. Greater emphasis is being placed on the evaluation of departmental programs and services to ensure effectiveness and efficiency. The Department is also developing an appropriate tool to determine suitable infrastructure.

Health Information

Current gaps in health data and capacity in the specialized field of health information and research compromise the ability to effectively design, deliver and evaluate its programs, and perhaps more importantly, report on the health status of Nunavummiut.

Once fully implemented, the Electronic Health Record (EHR) will provide the department with a sophisticated, accurate data system that will effectively track and help direct limited resources. The EHR will also provide tracking tools for public health surveillance.

Crime & Justice

There are a number of factors posing unique challenges for the administration of justice in Nunavut.

Statistics indicate that the rate and severity of violent crime in Nunavut far exceed the National average. As indicated in the chart below, the 2011 violent crime rate in Canada was 1230.8 per 100, 000 persons, while it was 9, 987 per 100, 000 in Nunavut. The difference indicates that the risk of violent crime in Nunavut is around 8 times higher than in Canada.

Rate of Violent Crime

The Government of Nunavut has made some progress in reducing crime rates, but new initiatives that address the roots of the problem and are community-driven and culturally appropriate are needed. There is a need for a continued emphasis on crime prevention and programs for offenders and victims. Prevention requires a coordinated response involving individuals, families, communities, private and government agencies.

As indicated in the below chart, in 2012, Nunavut’s Total Crime Severity Index was 326.1, with a Violent Crime Severity Index of 469.3. Nunavut and the Northwest Territories continue to report the highest Crime Severity Index values.

Total Crime Severity Index vs. Violent Crime Severity Index

Source: Statistics Canada, July 24, 2012

The increase in firearms-related offenses, breaches of the peace, break-ins, assaults, sexual assaults, and uttering threats speaks to the need for a coordinated strategic approach by all pertinent stakeholders to deal with crime prevention and reduction, as well as with appropriate and proportional sanctions for such offenses. The majorities of the offenses committed involved the consumption of alcohol or illegal substance.

Nunavut has a high rate of domestic violence, which poses special challenges to the justice system. While innovations like the Family Abuse Intervention Act are a good start, more work is required to understand and address the rate of domestic abuse and its effect of the various elements of the justice.

Many factors could help explain the high rate of crime in Nunavut, including low overall education attainment, overcrowded homes, and substance abuse, which is frequently associated with unemployment, family violence, and suicide.

The impact of addiction is felt by a wide range of the population and many of these crimes are fuelled by substance abuse, predominantly alcohol. Many offenders have been victimized themselves, or suffer from undiagnosed untreated mental illness. This underscores the necessity for a coordinated approach to crime prevention, public safety and community justice.

The Government of Nunavut opened its first women's correctional facility in June 2010, and is scheduled to open a new men's facility in Rankin Inlet. However, the corrections system continues to suffer from a lack of institutional bed space to meet the increasing demand, and to repatriate all territorial offenders, male and female, who are currently being held in other jurisdictions, including the Northwest Territories, Ontario, and Nova Scotia. It is a challenge to provide culturally relevant programming to offenders, even within the territory, let alone in other jurisdictions.

Rising crime rates also correlate to stress on the court system. The Nunavut Court of Justice currently has 12 homicide trials on its docket in addition to a myriad of other criminal matters. As caseloads grow further, strain is placed on the capacity of judges, court staff, prosecutors, and legal aid. The root causes of criminal activity must be addressed so that fewer offenders become involved in the justice system and end up before the Court.

Strain on courts and corrections will also increase as the Federal Government lengthens sentences and removes judicial discretion. Unless changes are made to the existing systems, the young demographic and rapid population growth will continue to put strain on the formal institutions of the criminal justice system. Youth are more likely to come into conflict with law enforcement, which has a direct impact on the resources required to assist offenders, victims, and communities. The average age of the Nunavut population is 24 years old.

Additionally, resource development and an influx of people and money into Nunavut may serve to exacerbate current crime and public safety concerns. Work must be done to coordinate stakeholders in the government, police, justice, Inuit Organizations, and private sector, to prepare for the social and judicial consequences of economic activity.

Adequate support is needed for Community Justice Committees to develop community-based solutions to these issues. There is a need for enhancement and expansion of culturally sensitive, community-based programs to support victims and families, to prevent crime, and to work with offenders in their home communities. This would include community-based dispute resolution mechanisms, in place of southern adversarial practices or formal justice institutions.

A lack of understanding of the criminal, civil, and family justice systems makes it essential that public education material be provided to inform citizens about the justice system. Access to justice and increased accountability and responsiveness in society as well as cross-cultural training within the justice system is needed to meet not only the clients' needs, but also the personnel who work in all areas of the department.

The challenges faced in the administration of justice are not only those that require immediate responses to immediate issues but involve the capacity to look forward and be ahead of developing trends in crimes. Gambling, prescription drug importation, and fraud for example are crimes that may not be prevalent in the territory but occurrences have been noted by our police service. It is important to recognize the necessity to respond effectively to any noted increase of these crimes with adequate resources.

Energy and the Environment

Our Land

Nunavummiut are proud of our strong relationship to the land. Nunavut is rich in wildlife, fish and other natural resources. However, our ecosystems are fragile and have long recovery times. Nunavut's land, air, water and creatures need to be managed in such a way as to ensure that it can be enjoyed by future generations of Nunavummiut.

We are committed to supporting a sustainable and viable wildlife management regime in Nunavut, developing sustainable and viable fisheries, and the development and management of a representative system of territorial parks and special places, but this depends upon integrating Inuit Societal Values with the best available scientific knowledge under the general guiding principles of conservation and sustainability.

Our Communities

With Nunavut's growing communities come the challenges of managing waste in an arctic environment, particularly given Nunavut's aging waste management infrastructure. Many communities are also burdened with abandoned waste sites, some of which are contaminated. Demands for increased development have driven the need to ensure that sustainable practices are employed and maintained in the long term.

The extent of potential climate change impacts on communities and community infrastructure is unknown. Communities need support from all levels of government in assessing and adapting to these impacts.

Many Nunavummiut depend on harvesting wildlife, fish and marine mammals for a large part of our food and income. These resources, if used sustainably, will help to ensure the availability of healthy food for Nunavummiut in the future, while also ensuring the health of our environment and contributing to healthy lifestyles. A healthy ecosystem will also attract eco-tourists and contribute to the local economies and employment of Nunavummiut.

There is an increasing amount of scrutiny of our wildlife management and conservation efforts at the national and international level. Actions and activities taking place in Nunavut are immediately available to interested parties worldwide, many of whom do not fully understand our sustainable co-management systems. Any perceived failure of Nunavut to meet external expectations can result in negative publicity and trade restrictions, as has been illustrated by the situation with both seals and polar bears.

Our Partners

Under the Nunavut Land Claims Agreement, land and resource management in Nunavut is based on an innovative co-management structure, which ensures that beneficiaries play a significant role in preserving our traditions, cultures and aspirations. While this process can be slow, expensive and time-consuming, the Government of Nunavut is committed to it and is working with our partners to evolve continually the process with the goal of improving efficiency and communications.

Collaborative partnerships from the local to international level are needed to accomplish our mandate. These include those within government, with other governments and with institutions of public government, crown corporations, designated Inuit organizations, boards, and public agencies.

The coordinated approach with our partners and stakeholders supports the sustainable use of wildlife and marine resources, protection of our environment and people, and the preservation of parks and conservation areas. By collaborating with other organizations and institutions, the impact of research and program dollars and increase or supplement to technical capacity can be maximized.

Climate Change

Global climate change is highly complex and dynamic, from both the scientific and social/cultural perspective. The timing, nature and severity of the impacts on Nunavut communities are difficult to predict and will vary locally and regionally.

Overall, the most prevalent observations of climate change in Nunavut include:

- The significant changes to the sea ice including its distribution, timing of freeze-up and thaw, and coverage;
- Average Arctic air temperatures that have increased at twice the rate of the global average; and
- Changes in permafrost: increased temperatures at the top layer and an overall decrease in the area covered by permafrost.

Because practically all infrastructure in Nunavut was built on permafrost, it is crucial that the Government of Nunavut participate actively in efforts to mitigate climate change, but also take active steps to prepare for and adapt to it.

Energy

Nunavut is one hundred percent reliant on imported fossil fuels for all of its energy. In 2009-10, the GN imported 171 million litres of fuel. The three major uses of fossil fuels in Nunavut are transportation (approx. 37%), heating (approx. 37%), and electricity generation (approx. 26%).

Energy use has increased in Nunavut by 14% since 2000, while at the same time the amount of energy used per person decreased slightly over the same period. This means that our efficiency has improved slightly. Growth in energy use has primarily been in heating and electricity while transportation energy use has decreased somewhat. This increase in energy use is mainly due to population and economic growth. Growth in the mining sector is expected to be the primary driver of economic activity and will be the primary driver for growth in energy use.

Each community in Nunavut has its own energy system and is spread out over a large geographical area, presenting serious challenges to having an energy system that is sustainable and reliable. All of Nunavut's fuel is purchased and shipped in bulk during a short summer season and stored in facilities in each community. This fuel is then resold at cost to Nunavummiut. If the price of oil happens to be high at the time fuel is purchased it can have a significant impact on the cost of energy in Nunavut. The Government of Nunavut pays approximately 80% of Nunavut's energy costs directly, (e.g. for government owned buildings) or indirectly (e.g. through public housing) and is responsible for supplying fuel to the Qulliq Energy Corporation (QEC).

In 2007, the Government of Nunavut released Ikummatiit: An Energy Strategy for Nunavut. This strategy focuses on reducing the reliance on fossil fuels, finding alternative energy sources, and promoting the efficient use of energy in the territory. Given the amount of physical infrastructure owned or under the control of the government and its agencies, the Government of Nunavut must play a leading role in directly reducing energy consumption. Indirect conservation effects can be achieved through efforts to make the public aware of energy conservation opportunities. Recently the GN completed an alternative and renewable resource inventory, which will help the GN, make informed decisions about alternative energy options for Nunavut communities.

Infrastructure

Transportation and Communications

Nunavut is dependent on the importation of goods from outside of the territory. Health care, education and training also rely heavily on transportation. Furthermore, a reliable and efficient transportation system has positive impacts on economic investment.

Air transportation is the only year-round means to access neighboring communities, other regions and the rest of Canada. Many airports require improvements for safety, security and maintenance purposes, and need to accommodate new security regulations and newer and more efficient aircraft.

All Nunavut communities depend on access to the sea for annual re-supply and participation in traditional harvesting. Some communities rely on this access for an emerging and increasingly important commercial fishery. The lack of adequate marine facilities affects the safety and efficiency of Nunavut's marine activities and is a barrier to the development of commercial fisheries, mineral exploration and development, and the territory's tourism sector.

Reliable and affordable access to broadband internet services is vital to Nunavut's economic future, both to ensure efficient communications and to enable and prepare Nunavummiut to take advantage of economic developments and emerging commercial opportunities. Continued support from the federal government for broadband internet communications beyond 2012 is important to ensure the availability and affordability of internet access for Nunavut residents and businesses.

Support for Municipalities

Financial reporting for Nunavut municipalities has been improving, but attraction and retention of senior staff for administration and finance continues to be challenging. Improving the capacity of staff and increasing the stability of senior staff will be the key to keeping communities financially healthy. All Nunavut municipalities reached compliance for reporting Tangible Capital Assets on their financial statements well ahead of the deadline imposed by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants.

Community Infrastructure

The costs for building and maintaining community and government infrastructure has been affected somewhat positively with a modest drop in material costs, due primarily to a dramatic change in the global economy. Labour costs have not fluctuated to the same extent and trades labour continues to be difficult to attract to the territory.

The Nunavut Community Infrastructure Advisory Committee (NCIAC) undertook the development of Integrated Community Infrastructure Sustainability Plans (ICSP) to create and measure long-term plans for each Nunavut Community. These plans were developed in consultation with each community. They will help communities achieve their environmental, cultural, social and economic goals.

The Department of Community & Government Services is improving the community consultation process, which will focus on improving community participation, fairness, transparency and accountability in the capital planning process.

Much community service infrastructure will require investment to comply with new environmental regulations.

Municipal Capacity

The Government of Nunavut supports building human resource capacity for municipalities through support of the Municipal Training Organization (MTO) with a mandate to identify community staff training needs; provide training to address those needs; and to encourage the use of best practices – with the goal of continuous performance improvement in municipal operations.

The MTO is entering its ninth year of delivering the Municipal Government Certificate Program, which allows municipal employees and other community residents to receive accredited training and certification in municipal management and governance. The MTO also provides targeted training in areas such as class 3 drivers' licenses and airbrake courses for municipal drivers and firefighting training for Nunavut's municipal fire departments.

Nunavut Fire Protection

The need to maintain public safety, coupled with increasing costs of fire insurance coverage for Nunavut communities, required the development of an enhanced fire protection capability. Maintaining affordable fire insurance has become a major issue for Nunavut communities. The Fire Protection Strategy is a crucial element of the overall program. Training will continue to be the cornerstone of the Fire Protection Strategy.

Health Infrastructure

Seventy percent of the territory's health facilities require renovations or replacements to ensure that they meet operational requirements and 2010 national building code standards. There is also a need for medical and mobile equipment to meet minimum standards and keep pace with technological advances. A strategic investment in health infrastructure is necessary in order to increase capacity, meet the needs of a rapidly growing population and reduce patient risk.

Resource and Capacity Challenges

Allocation of resources is one of the most urgent issues facing the Government of Nunavut. With the tight fiscal situation, the Government of Nunavut must coordinate its approaches to providing services to the public to avoid duplication and optimize the use of available resources. It is only through this collaborative approach that success can be realized for all Nunavummiut in the future. The intended result is quality services that are well targeted and delivered in a cost-effective manner.

Employee Capacity

To pursue innovation requires talented public servants. The challenge for the GN is attracting and selecting the best candidates for available positions in the public service. It is essential that the Government of Nunavut develop the technical skills and knowledge of the public service to meet the goals and objectives of the GN. This is a challenge for any organization, but is particularly the case for a relatively newly established public service.

With the inclusion of a two million dollar training fund, departments and agencies have an opportunity to expand training and development opportunities for all public servants. The training fund helps address this specialized training need within the GN, but the public service requires a long-term strategic approach that ties in performance management, the adoption of a succession-planning framework, mentoring and job shadowing tied to individual and organization training needs. However, training will continue to be an ongoing need not just for the public service, but also for the other sectors of Nunavut's economy.

Although other jurisdictions are benefiting from the global downturn in the recruitment process, cost of living factors continue to impede the GN in attracting new qualified employees to the public service in specialized positions where recruitment outside the territory is needed.

The retention rate for Government of Nunavut employees has significantly increased since 2000 (when it was 69%). Since that time, the retention rate increased to 84% as of March 31, 2012. While the retention rate has significantly increased since 2000, maintaining and increasing capacity remains a challenge for the GN.

Employers across all jurisdictions are faced with the challenge of retention. As the largest employer in Nunavut, the GN considers employee retention within the public service a priority. The Department of Human Resources works collaboratively with all client departments, boards and agencies in order to develop the tools for addressing employee retention. Significant progress has been made through subsidized staff housing rents; the implementation of an employee household allowance; and salary increases through collective bargaining. However, there is a need to develop and implement a comprehensive, long-term plan to address employee retention. In doing so, with an inclusive and broadly accepted strategy, stakeholders will have the most effective tools available to both retain and motivate their public servants.

Nunavut competes for health care professionals in an extremely competitive labour market where other provincial, territorial and international jurisdictions are also vying for their services and talent.

The recruitment and retention of all health professions, allied professionals and social services workers remains a significant challenge.

Physician recruitment and retention efforts are now focused on increasing the number of long-term family physicians practicing in Nunavut to provide consistent care for the population. In order to respond to the needs of the territory's growing population and provide increased in-territory services, the Department will require additional physician resources.

Inuit Representation in the Public Service

The Government of Nunavut, under Article 23 of the NLCA has an obligation to achieve a workforce that is representative of the population across all employment categories. This presents a significant challenge to most departments, boards, and agencies within the GN.

In June 2012, overall Inuit representation across all employment categories in the public service was 50%; representation in June 2011 was 51%. During this same period, capacity decreased by 1% to 75%. As of June 30, 2012, there were 4,160 full time positions, with beneficiaries occupying 1,607 of the 3,205 filled positions.

It is interesting to note that 39% of the positions are in Iqaluit, while the remaining 61% are in other communities across Nunavut. Representation of beneficiaries is 35% in Iqaluit. Beneficiary representation in other communities ranges from 44% to 72%.

Acquisition of Goods and Services

The Government of Nunavut's procurement services continue to evolve and improve the level of service to all Government of Nunavut departments and to the general public. New Contract Regulations are in force and the Contract Procedures Manual continues to evolve to meet emerging needs. Procurement and Contracting Services continues to provide training and support to all departments to ensure fair, ethical and transparent procurement and contracting.

Petroleum Products

The price that the Petroleum Products Division pays for its fuel is affected by supply and demand for oil on the world markets. Crude oil and respectively refined petroleum products prices continue to be volatile because of political instability, adverse weather, terrorism, and surging demand from developing countries.

In 2013-14, the price of oil will continue to bear significant cost pressures on the Government of Nunavut. A large share of the budget must to be allocated, directly and indirectly, to purchasing the fuel required for the heating, transportation, and electricity that is consumed throughout Nunavut and the world price for oil continues to play a significant role in the GN's long term fiscal planning.

To mitigate the uncertainty of volatile pricing caused by the fluctuations in the world market supply, Petroleum Products Division successfully implemented an early purchase initiative of Ultra Low Sulphur Diesel and Gasoline for the 2011-2012 resupply season. The pre-purchasing Premium Gasoline resulted in locking the purchase price when the fuel prices were near the bottom of its range for the season. By setting this financial hedge, the Petroleum Products Division have been able to maintain the same price per litre for all their petroleum products in 2012-2013 as they had for 2011-2012. We anticipate this price range to persist if world economic news remains the same and all indications seem to point to more of the same.

Similarly, the Petroleum Products Division must ensure that it has adequate tank storage capacity to meet the rapidly growing population and expanding industrial base. All efforts must be made to ensure that the Petroleum Products Division tank farms and delivery infrastructure meet the strict environmental codes and regulations.

Financial Resources

Understanding the operating environment of the Department of Finance necessitates identifying and recognizing the stakeholders and partners. These organizations include the federal government, provinces and other territories, designated Inuit organizations, communities, GN departments and agencies and most importantly, Nunavummiut.

STAKEHOLDERS AND PARTNERS

The Government of Nunavut marked a major milestone when the 2010-11 Public Accounts were tabled within the deadlines set in law and repeated that achievement with the tabling of the 2011-12 Public Accounts. This is the last year of the Multi-Year Comprehensive Funding Arrangement for Strengthening Financial Management and Networking Capacity with the Government of Canada. The funding this year focuses on further improving our financial reporting through the Public Accounts and streamlining the financial systems.

The management of fiscal resources is linked to the availability of human resources. Training of Nunavummiut for future technical jobs in the field of finance, as well as the recruitment of technical personnel from other parts of Canada, have been identified as essential to the development of Nunavut.

The Government of Nunavut receives the vast majority of its revenues from the federal government through major fiscal transfers, notably the Territorial Formula Financing (TFF) arrangement. The GN raises the balance of its funds through own-source revenue streams, such as territorial taxes. Until our private-sector economy expands, the GN will continue to rely on federal transfers and targeted “boutique” funding initiatives for most of its revenues. However, many of the current arrangements—including the TFF, the Canada Health Transfer and the Canada Social Transfer—are set to expire in 2014. GN Finance officials will work closely with our federal, provincial and territorial colleagues to ensure that the GN will benefit from the renewal of these transfers. Our primary goal will be to ensure that the TFF accurately reflects the GN’s modern expenditure needs.

Housing

The first ever Nunavut wide Housing Needs Survey was commissioned by the Nunavut Housing Corporation in 2009. The survey included all residential dwellings, such as public housing, staff housing, other rental housing and privately owned housing.

Released in October 2010, it revealed details of a known shortage of housing for Nunavummiut:

- Ø 35 % of Nunavut homes are overcrowded;
- Ø 23% of Nunavut homes are in need of major repairs;
- Ø Approximately 4% of the population (1,220 individuals) is “homeless” - living temporarily in another person’s dwelling.

According to the survey, there were 9,400 dwellings in the 25 communities in Nunavut, of which 8,550 dwellings were occupied by usual residents. The remaining 850 dwellings were unoccupied or occupied temporarily by persons who considered their usual home elsewhere. Of the dwellings occupied by usual residents:

- Ø 4,400 or 51% are public housing units
- Ø 1,880 or 22% are privately-owned dwellings
- Ø 1,350 or 16% are government staff housing
- Ø 930 or 11% were other types of rental housing

The survey found that almost half of occupied dwellings were below housing standards, meaning they were either crowded or in need of major repair or a combination of both.

- Ø 63% of Public Housing units were found to be below housing standards;
- Ø 47% of homeowner units were reported to be below housing standards;
- Ø 22% of Government staff housing and 26% of other dwellings were deemed to be below housing standards.

Governance

Nunavut Land Claims Agreement

The Nunavut Land Claims Agreement (NLCA) was signed in 1993 and the Government of Nunavut remains committed to implementing fully. Effective implementation of this important agreement requires a close working relationship with Nunavut Tunngavik Incorporated (NTI), the Regional Inuit Organizations, Government of Canada and many other stakeholder groups.

The Government of Nunavut will work with NTI and Aboriginal Affairs and Northern Development Canada for a renewed contract to continue implementing the NLCA. Working with all partners to implement obligations of the NLCA is critical if the Territory is to meet the challenge of enabling and expanding participation of NLCA beneficiaries in the economy. It will also enhance the services provided by government and its responsiveness to the public it serves. In order to provide opportunity for Inuit employment in government across the Territory, the government is committed to the policy of decentralization and strives to maintain over 60% of the public service outside the capital.

Consensus Government

A consensus government requires broad support for measures it proposes. The Premier and Ministers are required to take into account and respond to Members' concerns as they work through the legislative and budget processes. The system blends the principles of parliamentary democracy with the Inuit societal values of maximum cooperation, effective use of leadership resources and common accountability.

While elected officials work within a consensus system, the model used for Nunavut's public service is based primarily on the management structure found in the governments of the other northern territories and provinces. All departments will need to collaborate to balance consensus government with these existing systems of public administration. More work remains to be done to expand consensus models into the public service, where appropriate.

Intergovernmental Relations

Compared with 30 years ago and over the past 10 years, Nunavut is much more "connected" today with the rest of Canada and the world. Since the creation of Nunavut and the Government of Nunavut in 1999, the scope and pace of these interactions have been expanding exponentially.

It is important that Nunavut seize the opportunity to contribute to the development of national and international policies, especially in areas where our territory and its citizens have a unique interest or insight. The Government of Nunavut will need to prioritize the growing interactions and relations with other governments and organizations within Canada and beyond.

INUIT EMPLOYMENT PLAN

Introduction

The Government of Nunavut since its beginnings has dedicated itself to achieving a representative qualified workforce. With the guidance of Article 23 of the Nunavut Land Claims Agreement (NLCA), the barriers that prevent Inuit from getting jobs in the Government have consistently been identified and measures have been taken to address those barriers.

Progress has occurred by creating and enhancing opportunities for Inuit employment over the past ten years, which has resulted in an achievement of a 70% increase in Inuit employment between March 31, 2001 (943 beneficiary employees) and June 30, 2012 (1,607 beneficiary employees). The key has been identifying understandable, efficient, and practical tools to facilitate increased Inuit hire by all departments and agencies.

Our workforce comes from many cultures and works collectively towards the creation of a representative workforce in the spirit of Tamapta and building our future together.

The following table is a snapshot of the public service as of June 30, 2012, by occupational category:

June 30, 2012	Total Positions				Beneficiaries
	Total	Vacancies	Filled	%Capacity	Hired	%IEP

TOTALS	3675.6	951.5	2724.1	74%	1345.3	49%

Note: The table only reports on established positions of the 10 departments. It does not report on positions of the Nunavut Housing Corporation, Nunavut Arctic College, Qulliq Energy Corporation, Office of the Legislative Assembly, Minister's Offices nor the Office of the Commissioner of Nunavut. It also does not report on casuals or the 16 Sivuliqtiksats intern positions.

Having an increasingly representative workforce creates a culturally aware and sensitive environment where Inuit values thrive, take root, and drive the legislative, policy, and service operations of government. In such an environment, the use of Inuit languages grows throughout government as the proportional representation grows to reflect Nunavut. The increase of language use has allowed for the strengthening of first language speakers. It has also encouraged second language speakers to progress in their study and practice, as well as make Nunavummiut feel more comfortable and accommodated when accessing government services.

Inuit Employment Plan

Barriers to Inuit hiring are complex but are countered with optimism that the challenges can be overcome. As childcare spaces increase, over-inflated and unnecessary job requirements are removed, greater recognition is given to comparable experience and qualifications, and more training and mentorship is provided in the workplace, more Inuit will be hired into public service. Retention of skilled and qualified labour is always a challenge. However, the reasons for non-retention is as often as not the result of qualified and talented employees leaving the GN with solid expertise and confidence to take on political careers or join the ranks of Nunavut non-governmental, private-sector organizations and businesses, which have been growing both in numbers and capacity.

Human Resources has taken a developmental role in encouraging representation through promoting higher education and partnerships with excellent university and technical providers. These partnerships bring the best in technical training and internship with programs aimed at meeting the unique challenges and accessibility needs of Nunavut and incorporating to the highest degree possible training and mentorship reflecting Inuit societal values.

Government Wide Plan

This section of the Business Plan describes some of the Government of Nunavut initiatives undertaken towards achieving a representative workforce. These initiatives have been grouped into the following areas:

- Pre-employment Initiatives
- Employee Support
- Specific Departmental Initiatives

Carrying out these initiatives across the departments, boards, and agencies will result in the Government of Nunavut achieving increased Inuit employment by March 31, 2014. The following table identifies the interim targets by occupational category.

March 31, 2014	Total Positions				Beneficiaries
	Total	Vacancies	Filled	%Capacity	Hired	%IEP

Priority Hiring Policy

Since 2000, the Government of Nunavut has applied the Priority Hiring Policy. This policy gives priority consideration in the recruitment and selection of Government of Nunavut employees to NLCA beneficiaries. Those beneficiaries who meet the qualifications of a position are given priority over other applicants through the competition process. This policy applies to all job competitions in all departments, boards, and agencies. The Policy was updated in 2011 to include priority treatment, which is now extended to all recruiting actions, including short-term assignments, transfers, and job competitions. As well, all positions created or filled will be analyzed on a graded scale for Inuktitut and Inuinnaqtun language requirements and Inuit traditional knowledge.

Summer Student Employment Equity Program

The Summer Student Employment Equity Program is available to all secondary and post secondary students living in Nunavut and studying in or outside Nunavut. This program is designed to provide opportunities for students to explore different types of work and is an integral part of the development of Nunavummiut youth to gain practical and meaningful working experience in the public service. As part of the 2011 update to the Priority Hiring Policy, NLCA beneficiaries will now receive priority in the summer student hiring process.

Casual Employment

The Government of Nunavut uses casual employment opportunities as a way to provide experience and training to employees who may be interested in full time indeterminate positions. In addition, full time casual employment is provided for students who are required to complete a practicum or who have a break from school.

Sivuliqtiksat Internship Program

Sivuliqtiksat Internship Program is designed to provide professional development opportunities for beneficiaries to take on leadership positions (Manager/Director level) and specialist positions that are unique to a department. This focus assists the Government of Nunavut in filling the gaps in the senior, middle, professional, and paraprofessional occupational categories. The Government of Nunavut supports 16 interns who after the internship period assume the target position. The location of the internship is based on the location of the target position. Orientation, mentoring, work exchanges, and individual learning plans are components of the program.

Scholarships

The Government of Nunavut provides various scholarships to students pursuing higher education in both secondary and post secondary levels such as the scholarship for Technical Professional Studies or the High Achiever Computer Award for High School students through the Department of Community and Government Services. The Department of Education has compiled a list of which organizations, departments, institutions, business, and others in Nunavut who are providing scholarships and awards to Nunavut Students. This way interested students will know where and how to apply for funds to assist in their studies. This list will assist Nunavut students on better accessing much needed resources.

Kindergarten to Grade 12

The K-12 school curriculum continues to be revised to emphasize cultural relevance, academic excellence, and support the teaching and learning of Inuktitut in all its forms.

Piqqusilirivvik

The Government of Nunavut established Piqqusilirivvik – an Inuit Cultural School, to foster traditional culture, promote and strengthen the traditional language and teach Inuit heritage and customs. The vision of Piqqusilirivvik provides a system that allows for the transfer of traditional culture, heritage, lifestyle, and values taught in the traditional language and based on Inuit Qaujimagatuqangit principles.

Financial Assistance for Nunavut Students (FANS)

The Government of Nunavut demonstrates its commitment to life-long learning by providing financial assistance to Nunavut students who are pursuing further education.

Nunavut Arctic College Programs

The Government of Nunavut, through Nunavut Arctic College, continues to provide programs for higher learning. In partnership with other Government of Nunavut departments, Nunavut Arctic College has successfully delivered training programs that have resulted in employment opportunities for beneficiaries while successfully addressing a capacity gap within the public service. This includes programs such as the Nunavut Teacher Education Program and the Nunavut Nursing Program.

Promoting Employment Opportunities

The Government of Nunavut promotes employment opportunities by attending career fairs, trade shows, and visiting high schools in the communities. An “Inuit in Nursing” campaign celebrating the success of Inuit working as Registered Nurses will be delivered to encourage Nunavummiut to consider a career in nursing. Recruitment videos have also been developed for specific occupations in the Government of Nunavut.

Employee Support

Training Opportunities

The Government of Nunavut encourages and supports employee training. A learning plan is used by employees, with the support of their supervisor, to identify areas for training and development. The Government of Nunavut provides a trainer's allowance to any employee who is in a position where they are training another employee through on-the-job training. To receive the trainer's allowance, a learning plan and a training agreement must be signed off by participants. This is a good way for the employer to demonstrate that it values the development of its employees.

The Department of Human Resources offers various learning and development opportunities including courses on Inuktitut (first and second language speakers), cultural orientation, computer literacy, financial management, supervisory skills, and human resources management. In addition, the department offers a Nunavut Advanced Management Diploma Program, which is a ten module program delivered in collaboration with Saint Mary's University, as well as the Financial Management Certification Program, which is comprised of six modules and reflect the current financial procedures used across the Government of Nunavut. Furthermore, the department offers a Human Resources Management Diploma Program, Administrative Professional Diploma Program, and Supervisory Diploma Program.

In 2009-2010, the Government of Nunavut established a specialized training fund to develop technical and job specific competencies through individualized training programs designed to address the unique learning needs associated with particular departments, divisions, or positions. Each program is designed and delivered by the employing department/agency. The Department of Education is developing and implementing a training strategy for Career Development Officers. The strategy will enhance the training for the Income Support Workers to equip them with the ability to counsel Income Support Recipients.

Internships

The Government of Nunavut has undertaken some internship programs that provide on the job training to beneficiary employees. These vary in length depending on the position and the skill level of the individual. This includes the Department of Finance interns as well as the Conservation Officer Training Program through the Department of Environment.

Mentorship

Employees across the Government of Nunavut are encouraged to use mentors. Mentors for example are provided to nurses graduating from the Nunavut Nursing Program. The Government of Nunavut has an agreement with the Canadian Executive Service Organization (CESO) to provide Volunteer Advisors on as needed basis who also act as mentors.

Orientation

Orientations are available to for all employees and are designed to provide a general orientation to the Government of Nunavut. Orientations that are more specific are provided in the individual workplaces. In addition, cultural orientations are offered across the Government of Nunavut. Topics include the history of Nunavut, Inuit Qaujimajatuqangit principles, traditional Inuit activities etc.

Education Leave

The Government of Nunavut supports its employees to improve continually their skills. The Education Leave directive allows employees to take leave for educational pursuits. This provides employees with the opportunity to take advantage of external training. Employees must be in indeterminate positions and have been employed at least 3 years before they can apply for education leave. Education leave can be approved for short or long term, and with or without financial assistance.

Specific Departmental Initiatives

All of the Government of Nunavut's departments and agencies utilize the tools detailed above to increase Inuit employment. However, each retains a level of autonomy to develop their own tools and initiatives to further Inuit employment to meet their respective needs. The following is a summary of these initiatives broken down by department.

Department of Executive and Intergovernmental Affairs

The department will participate directly in two government wide Inuit employment initiatives, the Labour Force Analysis and the Communications Strategy.

Nunavut Kiglisiniaqtiit (Nunavut Bureau of Statistics) analyzes and disseminates Statistics Canada data on Nunavut's labour force. A monthly report is produced on the latest data available from Statistics Canada's Labour Force Survey detailing employment statistics in Nunavut. The Labour Force Survey tracks employment for Inuit and Non-Inuit residents and other characteristics in the 19 largest communities.

EIA Communications is the central agency for providing communications support to the line departments and centrally coordinates all GN communication activities. The division will assist the newly acquired Inuit Employment Division in the development of a communication strategy on the implementation of the Government of Nunavut Inuit Employment Plan. The Communications Division will also develop a GN-wide communications policy with the intent of ensuring consistent quality, messaging and response to issues.

In addition to participating in government wide initiatives, the department will continue its own efforts to increase beneficiary employment, especially for management categories.

A Government Liaison Officer is the public's central point-of-contact with government. These individuals will ensure that government services can be accessed more easily in every community. The demands of these positions require that they be staffed primarily by local beneficiaries.

The Inuit Language Protection Act and the Official Languages Act require significant increases in the ability of staff to use the Inuit Language in the workplace. As part of its commitment to building capacity amongst senior management, the department will make first and second language Inuit language training available to all departmental employees and to executive management from across the Government of Nunavut.

The department, with the involvement of the entire Senior Management Committee, will closely reexamine all of its job descriptions before staffing positions. The job descriptions will be reviewed to ensure that they do not contain inflated educational or experience requirements and to ensure that services can be delivered in the appropriate languages at all levels.

Department of Finance

The department has a number of initiatives that will increase Inuit employment, which include:

- Hiring beneficiaries through the Summer Student Employment Program, so that students can determine if a career in finance fits their career aspirations and to develop their workplace skills;
- Hiring beneficiaries as casual employees to provide them with an opportunity to experience first-hand what a career in finance could be and if they would like to pursue a career path in this area;
- Identifying potential beneficiaries and “streaming” them into an intern position;
- When appropriate, offering term positions if beneficiary candidates are not successful in the recruitment process; and
- Attending high school career fairs to raise the visibility of a career as finance and human resources management professionals.

Department of Justice

In the 2013-16 fiscal years, the Department of Justice will be participating in two GN wide initiatives and several complementary department-specific initiatives to work towards achieving an average of 51% Inuit representation by 2016.

Working with the Department of Human Resources, the Department of Justice currently supports the development of one Sivuliqtiksats intern into a Senior Management position. She will be working towards completing her learning plan to assume her targeted Senior Management duties and responsibilities.

Inuit Employment Plan

In the meantime, we will continue to apply for Sivuliqtiksat positions as they become available.

Another GN wide initiative the department is participating in is the Inuit Employment Plan for the Government of Nunavut. This plan will be developed collaboratively with input from all departments. The Corporate Services Division, working with each of the Senior Managers, will spearhead the role for the Department of Justice.

Each summer the department participates in the Summer Student Employment Equity Program. The department routinely hires students into positions that allow them to see the type of work our department does, and that experience helps them determine if they would like to pursue a career in a Justice-related field.

There are two pieces of legislation that will have an impact on initiatives that promote Inuit employment. Those are the recently passed Inuit Language Protection Act (ILPA) and a new Public Service Act (PSA), currently being developed. To meet the requirements of ILPA, the department is working with CH to access staffing needs and requirements. The new PSA will incorporate Inuit societal values consistent with Article 23 of the Nunavut Land Claim Agreement.

There are several specific initiatives in the department. They are as follows:

- Streamlining the Priority Hiring Policy within the department

Throughout the Government of Nunavut, all departments have been given the responsibility to ensure the adherence to the Priority Hiring Policy. The Department of Justice will continue ensuring that artificial barriers such as overly inflated education and experience requirements are not present when sending a position to competition with the following activities:

Specific training is required to ensure that all individuals involved in staffing decisions are aware of and accurately apply the Priority Hiring Policy. It has been mandated through the department that all employees sitting on hiring panels must take the “How to be a Panel Member” training offered through the Staffing Division of the Department of Human Resources. This ensures that every hiring panel member is educated on their responsibility and will contribute to better IEP hiring practices within the department.

- Investing in human capital to improve effectiveness of the workforce

The performance review process will continue this fiscal year. Once the review is completed, a training plan and a work plan may be developed for each employee, as required. This will eliminate any lack of direction that the employee may experience and will continue to ensure that the employee has the skills required to perform the duties of their position

The department has formed a partnership with the Canadian Executive Service Organization (CESO) to provide individual mentors to staff who are identified as having a high potential. These CESO mentors are building managerial capacity in our employees by enhancing skills, competencies, and knowledge necessary for effective governance; supporting the development of policies and procedures that improve effective governance; and are helping our staff to build strategic leadership capacity that focuses on the needs of communities and community members.

- Foster and sustain an environment attractive to Inuit

The department realizes how important it is to foster and promote an environment that is attractive to Inuit individuals. Guided by Inuit Qaujimajatuqangit, the department will work towards providing employees with the direction and tools they need to perform the work of the organization to the very best of their ability.

Actions to support staff include:

- Illiniit, the departmental Inuit Qaujimajatuqangit committee, provides advice, direction, and assistance to the department on all matters involving the use of Inuktitut in the workplace, the incorporation of Inuit Qaujimajatuqangit into the department's programs and services and will offer various training and workshops.
- Foster a community spirit and a sense of belonging by offering employees the opportunity to become involved outside the formal workplace in a variety of recreational and volunteer activities. This is mainly done through IQ days developed and held by our Illiniit Committee. These IQ days have proven to be very successful as many employees participate in these cultural days, and continuously provide positive feedback.
- Encourage all staff, both current and new, to take advantage of the cultural orientation training and Inuktitut in the Workplace language training offered by the Department of Human Resources. This promotes understanding of the Inuit culture, which facilitates the use of IQ principles in the workplace.
- Offer and encourage all supervisors and managers to take training that addresses such topics as cultural diversity, good management practices and coaching skills. Their understanding of the benefits and rewards of a representative workforce helps create a supportive work environment that enhances the potential of all employees.
- Emphasize existing quality of work-life initiatives as effective practices that advance the interests of our workforce. These initiatives include programs such as adjustment of shift schedules to reflect the lifestyles of employees (flextime, compressed workweeks, and so on).
- Ensure that correctional facilities offer a safe and healthy work environment. As employees spend a significant portion of their lives in the facilities' surroundings, keeping workspaces safe and healthy conveys a sense of pride and respect that helps keep employees on board.

- Promote quality of work life as an integral part of daily operations

The Department of Justice will be fostering initiatives that improve the quality of work life. As in other public services, several principal factors are driving changes in GN employee perceptions and the need to encourage quality of work initiatives and flexibilities.

Some of these are:

- The nature of work and the workplace are changing dramatically due to technology that produces vast amounts of data along with the ability to communicate more rapidly and at more levels than ever before;
- Expectations of the workforce reflect generational and cultural differences in attitudes about work and careers;
- Managers are asked to focus on the work team's ability to respond to changing circumstances and workload requirements;
- Managers are asked to view employees as human capital with a corresponding investment in employee growth and development; and,
- Leadership is taking forms other than the classic supervisory and management functions. This will include mentoring and encouraging employees to learn and develop their skills.

- Promoting the Corrections Division as an employer to recruit Inuit staff

The division continues to be faced with the challenge of recruiting Inuit in the Territory's highly competitive labour market. An additional challenge to the division is recruiting Inuit to relocate to the territorial capital where most of our correctional institutions are currently located. In order to overcome these challenges, the division is taking on the following initiatives:

- Various Corrections staff will visit high schools, job fairs and trade shows to educate students and the public about possible careers in Justice, and specifically the healing role that our corrections staff plays in the rehabilitation of offenders. This includes visits to Rankin Inlet to encourage local people to consider applying for positions in the newly created Rankin Inlet Healing Facility. By promoting this division to youth, it will entice them to at least consider a career in corrections, and even encourage them to obtain post-secondary training in areas related to corrections. Ultimately, this will begin to build future employees for the corrections division and the department as a whole.
- Promote active and regular recruitment of employees for positions in the correctional facilities through an open ad for casual employment. Through this approach, employees can gain experience in facilities, and when a position becomes available, they will have the skills to win the competition. Also, they have a greater opportunity to see various career paths that are open to them within the corrections division and the department as a whole.
- Lead an ad campaign to increase awareness of positions in the corrections division. This includes sending job ads to the hamlets for posting and distribution, making radio announcements, and doing interviews to promote employment as a Correctional Officer or Youth Officer.

In the face of these influencing factors, the department will:

- Research options to compete effectively with other employers in Nunavut for representative workers. This might include work schedules that incorporate compressed work weeks or flex hours in the workplace;

- Identify and reward those who contribute to building and maintaining a representative, high-quality workforce, ultimately resulting in better service to the public; and,
- Ensure that the use of all of Nunavut's languages is encouraged in the workplace. Traditionally, some individuals have been hesitant to speak the Inuit languages in the workplace – its use will be actively encouraged by supervisors.

Department of Culture and Heritage

The Department of Culture and Heritage is committed to achieving a representative level of Inuit employment. Due to the very nature of the department's mandate, many of the positions dictate that Inuit language speaking employees fill the positions. This increases the probability of hiring beneficiaries. This is especially true in the Official Languages Branch, the Inuit Qaujimaqatunqangit Division and the Elders and Youth Division.

In regards to the other remaining divisions (Corporate Services, Heritage, and Policy and Planning) within the Department, the use of GN wide programs such as Sivuliqtiksats, mentorship, and job training initiatives will be fully utilized to ensure that entry-level personnel have the opportunity to advance in the workplace.

The department is involved in various initiatives that focus on increasing Inuit employment within the department. These include:

- Hiring of beneficiaries into vacant positions;
- Reviewing all old and new job descriptions to remove systemic barriers;
- Implementing the language of work provisions under the Inuit Language Protection Act within the department's work environment;
- Collaborating with the Inuit Uqausinginnik Taiguusiliuqtiit in developing work-related terminology needed in the Inuit language;
- Promoting of professional development, training, and mentorship.

Department of Education

Department of Education has been very successful meeting its Inuit employment targets in the paraprofessional categories. However, before the department can increase its overall level of Inuit employment, significant progress will have to be made towards increasing the number of Inuit teachers in professional positions and middle managers.

With this in mind, the department developed the Qalattuq 10 year Teacher Education Strategy, in conjunction with Nunavut Arctic College, Nunavut Tunngavik Inc. and the Nunavut Teachers' Association. The strategy was designed to help address the shortfall in the number of teachers who can teach in Inuit languages, as well as identifying new approaches to recruit, educate, and retain more Inuit educators. With many Inuit teachers expected to retire over the next few years, increasing the number of Inuit teachers is expected to be a significant challenge. In order to meet the requirements of the Education Act and the Inuit Language Protection Act as well as to ensure the success of Bilingual Education, many more Inuit teachers will be needed in the school system. The department is especially concerned with the expectation that a high number of Inuit educators will be retiring or leaving the teaching profession in the next few years. The Nunavut Teacher Education Program has undergone a multi-million dollar expansion in the last several years to address this need. Before 2010-11, the program was typically delivered in five communities. This has now been expanded to eleven communities. Nunavut Arctic College, The Department of Education and the University of Regina have developed a collaborative proposal for the delivery of a 7-9 teacher education concentration at NAC.

Many training initiatives underway support employee skills development and certification of skills. These programs are important opportunities for retaining and promoting beneficiaries. A multi-year training strategy for Career Development Officers (CDOs) is currently being delivered by the department and the Canadian Career Development program, which is leading towards Nunavut, and possibly national, certification. The Educational Leadership Program for principals and vice-principals now leads to certification from the University of Prince Edward Island. A formal staff training program for school community counselors is in the implementation stage, with the first session being delivered in October 2012. Language and Culture certificate programs are also supported to develop Inuit language educators.

The Master in Education program, in partnership with the University of Prince Edward Island graduated 21 Inuit participants in 2009. There are currently 15 Inuit educators enrolled in this program, with graduation set for summer 2013. Many of these graduates remain employed with the department. It is hoped that their success will encourage other Inuit to complete the program. The program focuses on developing educational leadership and that they will remain with the department and move into supervisory positions.

Department of Health

The department is committed to providing Inuit with training and education opportunities in health careers. In support of that commitment, the department continues to work with Nunavut Arctic College by supporting and funding certificate, diploma, and degree programs that lead to rewarding career opportunities in the health care sector.

A “training ladders” initiative was implemented in collaboration with Nunavut Arctic College. This initiative enables Inuit to achieve higher education levels at the diploma and degree level. Common course modules, course transferability and “step-in / step-out” options are elements incorporated into program delivery models.

Programs planned for delivery in 2013-2014 include:

- Nunavut Nursing Baccalaureate program (Iqaluit);
- Maternal Care Worker / Midwifery program (Cambridge Bay);
- Community Health Representative Certificate program (Iqaluit and on-line based training); and
- A certificate program in Health Services Leadership and Management will be delivered on-line by Red River College.

There are a total of four internship opportunities through the Sivuliqtiksats program available with Health, three of which remain to be filled.

Under the Summer Student Employment Equity program, Health hired 30 summer students, 22 of these were beneficiaries.

Other proactive departmental efforts related to Inuit employment include:

- Providing employment for graduates of Nunavut Arctic College health and social services related training programs such as nurses, midwives and home and community care workers;
- Providing scholarships and bursaries for nursing and midwifery students;
- Exam preparation/study skills workshops for Nunavut nursing students writing the Canadian Registered Nurse Examination;
- Providing mentors for nurses graduating from the Nunavut Nursing Program;
- Revamping a service delivery format for Community Health Representatives who are working and living in communities across Nunavut, to make it more flexible;
- Attending community career fairs to promote health and social services job opportunities: and
- Reviewing all old and new job descriptions to remove systemic barriers.

The Department also provides funding support for the Foundation Studies Program being offered by Nunavut Arctic College in Iqaluit and Cambridge Bay in 2011-2012. This program prepares students for enrollment in Nunavut Arctic College programs, primarily through studies in math, English, and science.

A new “training ladders” initiative was also recently completed and implemented in collaboration with Nunavut Arctic College. This program will enable Inuit to achieve higher education levels at the diploma and degree level. Common course modules, course transferability and “step-in / step-out” options are elements being incorporated into current program delivery models.

Other proactive departmental efforts related to Inuit employment include:

- Providing employment for graduates of Nunavut Arctic College health and social services related training programs, such as nurses, midwives, mental health workers, community therapy assistants, and home and community care workers;
- Providing scholarships and bursaries for nursing students;
- Providing a new bilingual counselor for Inuit nursing students;
- Exam preparation/study skills workshops for Nunavut Nursing Program students writing the national Registered Nurse Examination;
- Providing mentors for nurses graduating from the Nunavut Nursing Program;
- Implementing an “Inuit in Nursing” campaign as part of the implementation of the Nunavut Nursing Recruitment and Retention Strategy, which celebrates the success of Inuit working as Registered Nurses. The campaign also encourages Nunavummiut to consider nursing as a career;
- Providing mentoring support for new community therapy assistants;
- Revamping a delivery format for Community Health Representatives who are working and living in communities across Nunavut to be more flexible; and,
- Attending community career fairs to promote health and social services job opportunities.

The Department is also finalizing a comprehensive human resources framework to guide the development of an overall Health and Social Services Human Resources Strategy. The Strategy, which will be implemented in 2011-2012, includes specific initiatives that are designed to further the recruitment, development, and retention of Inuit employees.

Department of Family Services

The department is committed to providing Inuit with training and education opportunities in social services careers. In support of that commitment, the department continues to work with Nunavut Arctic College by supporting and funding certificate, diploma, and degree programs that lead to rewarding career opportunities in social services sector.

A “training ladders” initiative was implemented in collaboration with Nunavut Arctic College. This initiative enables Inuit to achieve higher education levels at the diploma and degree level. Common course modules, course transferability and “step-in / step-out” options are elements incorporated into program delivery models.

Programs planned for delivery in 2013-2014 include:

- Social Services Diploma program – consisting of social work and alcohol and drug counselor streams (Cambridge Bay);

Other proactive departmental efforts related to Inuit employment include:

- Providing employment for graduates of Nunavut Arctic College social services related training programs;
- Attending community career fairs to promote social services job opportunities; and

Department of Environment

The department is committed to increasing Inuit employment and in addition to specific initiatives, uses existing government systems to support improvements in Inuit employment:

- The department uses summer/seasonal positions as an important gateway to further employment with the department. As much as possible, the department fills these positions with beneficiaries. During the summer of 2012 the department employed 17 summer/seasonal positions, and 15 of those were beneficiaries.
- In addition to summer/seasonal positions, in 2012 the department employed 14 beneficiaries on a casual basis.
- Following the completion of the initial intake of trainees in the Department of Environment’s in-house Conservation Officer Trainee Program, the program was evaluated and revised. A second intake of trainees has since been hired.
- As a pilot project the department staffed a regional manager trainee position in the Kivalliq. This individual will complete their training in 2013/2014 and will be ready to assume a management position. Recently the department filled the North Baffin Manager position with a beneficiary through a transfer assignment, again increasing the number of Inuit in management.

Department of Community and Government Services

The Department of CGS has identified means to help attract and retain Inuit staff. Factors involved include the need for a strong appreciation and implementation of Inuit societal values in the workplace and matching these values with the business requirements of government. This focuses on promoting staff training and development, and linking employees and business requirements through work plans that are designed to prioritize service first. Identifying and catering to the needs of Nunavummiut should assist with this goal.

CGS is committed to identifying intern positions that qualify under the Management Development Program that seeks to develop internship opportunities with support and funding from Department of Human Resources.

As a priority, the department has graduated five interns in the regional office and one apprentice. The department is also participating with Career Trade Shows through by Regional Chambers of Commerce travelling throughout Nunavut communities, college classes and high schools to promote career opportunities within the department.

This year CGS had advertised 92 positions in open competition along with hiring of 54 casual staff, of which 69% were Inuit Beneficiaries to the NLCA. The casuals are trained so they would have professional knowledge and work history to apply for indeterminate job ads. CGS has also an MOU (April 15, 2011 to September 30, 2014) with University of Manitoba Faculty of Engineering (UMFE) to attract upper year engineering students to work in CGS during May 15 to August 31 of each year.

CGS is also taking direct action to assist in addressing the need for more beneficiaries in technical and professional positions. A two-year Co-op program was funded and created through Nunavut Arctic College to train beneficiaries for informatics positions. This program has been extended for another cycle, which will end in year 2013. Senior management made the commitment to extend the program for a further two years in efforts to improvement Inuit representation in the Government of Nunavut Informatics workforce. Funding was identified from person years within Informatics that could not be staffed. The professional growth of interns in their work within the organization is to be supported with the development of a strong culture of coaching, mentoring, and knowledge transfer by seasoned employees. During the interim, ten or more contractors will continue to assist Government Informatics to maintain operations.

To complement the Inuit employment planning initiative, CGS launched the Technical Professional Studies Scholarships to help to address priority capacity areas. The annual Technical/Professional Studies Scholarship is provided to high achieving students studying in the field of engineering, informatics, community planning, and business studies as well as college programs for fire fighting, training and prevention and land administration for which there is an ongoing need for accredited staff. This is to encourage students to stay in school to completion. The Computer Award Program has been delivered for the past seven (7) years, and it is hoped that in conjunction with Department of Education officials and the foregoing programs the Government of Nunavut will see an early awareness of career opportunities that hold potential for Inuit staff in Informatics Services and other professional and technical fields. In October 2011, the Training Committee awarded scholarships to 18 recipients attending Post Secondary institutions.

Short and long term educational and professional development applications for existing staff have been developed. Assistance also has been provided in coordinating these training related initiatives. CGS created a Departmental Training Committee responsible for the development of an internal training program for the department. This will be achieved by a prioritization of departmental needs in conjunction with training programs available. From there, funds will be identified to facilitate training participation. The committee will report through its members to each division to ensure identified training is consistent with departmental needs as well as Government of Nunavut policies and Article 23 of the Nunavut Land Claims Agreement. Success in this strategy will also depend on an internal culture of coaching and mentoring by seasoned staff that will assist the newly trained staff in applying their knowledge to work within the department.

CGS recognizes the achievement of Article 23 of the Nunavut Land Claims Agreement. Achievement of targets will take time and deliberate action must be continued to ensure that successful long-term employees represent the demographics of Nunavut.
