Earth Day: Home Edition

Start Date: April 22, 2020 End Date: April 22, 2020

Nunavut-wide 60 sec

Looking for ways to keep yourselves occupied at home for Earth Day? The Government of Nunavut is offering a variety of activities you can do anywhere!

- Want to learn more about your carbon footprint and improve your on-the-land skills? Take the Tukisigiaqta quiz on the Nunavut Climate Change Centre website.
- Interested in hunting but don't know where to start? You can gain a lot of basic knowledge with the Nunavut Online Hunter Education Course on the Department of Environment website.
- Want to be ready to hunt seal in the summer? Watch the video Hunting Seal in the Summer and you'll be getting advice from experienced hunters.

We'll be sharing these tips and more throughout the day on Earth Day – Wednesday, April 22 – on our Twitter account @GOVofNUNAVUT, on the Government of Nunavut Facebook page and on the Department of Environment website. Like and follow to learn more!
